State Officials Attend Dinner in Honor of Wicks

Testimonial Is Arranged by Parents of Those Who Attend Greene County School

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, who was instrumental in gaining state recognition for improvements to the Notch road section of Greene county, was tendered a testimonial dinner Wednesday evening by parents of school children of the Edgewood-Lanesville school districts at Ben Winter's Tavern in Hunter.

Approximately 200 honored guests and friends were in attendance including Charles H. Sells, superintendent of public works for the state of New York; R. M. MacNaughton, superintendent of schools in Greene county, was toastmaster.

Construction on the Notch road began last Saturday. It was learned today.

In praising the assistance given by Senator Wicks, speakers at Wednesday's function lauded the Kingston legislator for his efforts which finally brought the much sought for improvements to the Notch road area of Greene county.

Other speakers at the dinner besides Senator Wicks and Mr. Sells were Claude Tompkins, chairman of the Greene county Board of Supervisors; Russell R. Collin, principal of the Edgewood-Lanesville School; Burton H. Belmont, state education department supervisor in Albany; Judge Paul Fromer, surrogate of Greene county; E. D. Bellamy, of the engineer department of public works for the state of New York; William Brady, member of the Assembly from Greene county; Charles Coffin, deputy attorney general of the state of New York, and Sheriff Milton Bailey of Greene county.

John Papp of Lanesville was chairman of arrangements and he was assisted by parents from the two school districts.

County Teachers Will Cooperate; Cahill Named

A program of cooperation with the New York State Teachers' Association will be continued by the Ulster County Teachers' Association. It was announced last night at a meeting of the steering committee of the local group in the Common Council chamber, city hall.

Lawrence Cahill of Saugerties was elected chairman of the committee to succeed Mrs. Thelma L. Metzger of this city.

The special program of cooperation with the state organization began a year ago and it will be continued on the same basis through the next year.

Fifty teachers attended the session last night.

Denies Knowing

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—A young man who, according to detectives, told a story of receiving more than $2,000 worth of treasury bonds from a man he knew only as "Big Nose" at the Kingston race track, appeared in the police lineup this morning and denied knowing the bonds were stolen. The suspect, Sidney Bronsky, 26, who gave his address as 30 East 37th street, Brooklyn, was arrested last night at 94th street and Broadway on a charge of criminally receiving stolen goods.

Trial Postponed

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 16 (AP)—Patricia (Satira) Schmidt's off-postponed murder trial was postponed again today because of the illness of an attorney. The 22-year-old Toledo, O., dancer will resume her testimony tomorrow, under the questioning of her defense attorney, Rene Castellan.

Schmidt is charged with the slaying of a man, John Lester Mee, of Chicago, aboard his yacht in Havana harbor last April 8.

Condition 'Still Serious'

The condition of Herbert E. Thomas, 135 Emerson street, retired local printer, was described today as "still serious" at the Benedictine Hospital. The local man was taken to the hospital last night after he had fallen from a ladder while working on his property.

Dewey Suggests That Hunting Season Be Extended Beyond Normal Closing Date as Compensation

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—Governor Dewey ordered the parched Adirondack forests closed to the public today and temporarily suspended hunting seasons to prevent further outbreaks of fire, already ranging in 25 areas.

Dewey, noting that the 30-day deer season was scheduled to open Monday, recommended to the Conservation Department that the season be extended beyond the normal closing date by the number of days lost through the forest ban.

C.I.O. Gives Strong Vote to Marshall, U.S. Foreign Policy

Convention Swings to Right and Russians Get Verbal Spanking for Methods

By MAX HALL

Boston, Oct. 16 (AP)—This was clear today: The C.I.O. stands overwhelmingly behind Secretary of State Marshall and American foreign policy.

It was demonstrated yesterday in one of the most violent debates heard at a C.I.O. convention in the last six years.

The convention cheered constantly for Right-Wing speakers who shouted their support of American policy and fired criticism at Russian and Communist methods.

It was an obvious spanking for the C.I.O.'s extreme Left Wing, with President Philip Murray doing part of the spanking.

The loudest and longest roar of applause came when George Baldratz of the textile workers said that in Russia President Truman has been compared to a Hitler and then added: "He couldn't be a Hitler, because if he were a Hitler, Russia would work out a pact with him."

Secretary Marshall himself addressed the convention earlier in the day. The delegates gave him an ovation. Murray called him "one of the world's greatest champions of peace."

Marshall spoke of the "urgent necessity" of "positive interim measures" to supply food and coal to Europe "to prevent a fatal decline of peace."

Meany and Tobin Emerge as Bosses of A.F.L. Assembly

John L. Lewis, Hutcheson Are Overwhelmed; Hutcheson Ruled Since 1915

San Francisco, Oct. 16 (AP)—A Bronx plumber and a Boston coal wagon driver emerged today as the undisputed bosses of the American Federation of Labor convention.

Control of the convention for George Meany of the Plumbers and Daniel J. Tobin of the Teamsters carried with it virtual control of the 15-man policy-making executive council which will run the A.F.L.'s affairs from now until next fall, when the federation meets again.

As the convention drew to a close today, delegates admitted that the smoothly-operating machine of the 72-year-old Tobin, and 53-year-old Meany was the big revelation of the 66th annual get-together of the labor group.

Together Meany and Tobin overpowered John L. Lewis and William L. Hutcheson with their votes. While Lewis created the fireworks with his effort to block what he called "dehydration" of the executive council, it was Hutcheson who suffered most. He and his carpenters have wielded the big stick in the federation since 1915.

Lewis and his United Mine Workers never had much of a chance to get support of the other delegates in their stand against signing non-Communist affidavits in an all-out defense of the Taft-Hartley Act. The other federation leaders—even Hutcheson—favored complying with the affidavit requirement; so the weaker unions could have access to the protective machinery of the National Labor Relations Board.

Fight Is Lost

Lewis lost that fight, and two-thirds of the 700 delegates elected to amend the A.F.L. constitution and to do away with the 13 vice-presidencies.

Lewis was a vice-president and as an "officer" of the federation had refused to sign the non-Communist statement, he could have barred the entrance to the N.L.R.B. for about 300,000 federal local members whose only national affiliation is that of the federation itself.

Now President William Green and Secretary-treasurer Meany are the A.F.L.'s only officers. They will sign the affidavits.

But the maneuver, engineered by Meany and Tobin, does more than set Lewis back on his haunches. It makes Meany the logical successor to 74-year-old Green, who has been president of the federation since the death of Samuel Gompers in 1924.

Election of officers and council members was scheduled for 10:30 a. m. P. M. today, and Green was expected to be re-elected without opposition. Lewis announced when he lost the fight over signing affidavits that he would not run again for the council, even though his election probably would have been assured.

That creates a vacancy on the policy-making council, and the contest was between Daniel W. Tracy of the Electrical Workers, former assistant secretary of labor, and Hugo Ernst of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees. Tracy had Tobin's backing for the post in September, when another vacancy occurred, but Tracy chose not to accept at that time.

Mercury's Over 80

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—The mercury soared above the 80-degree mark in New York state today for the second straight day and forecasters predicted the warm weather would continue at least through tomorrow. The U. S. Weather Bureau reported 85 degrees at Danville. In Buffalo, a midday reading of 81 broke the record for the date set in 1897 by one degree.

Asks Modified Policies

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Commerce Department's 20-man advisory committee on small business recommended today that Federal tax policies be modified "in the interests of business."

The recommendations were submitted to Secretary of Commerce Harri-man by Chairman Ross Stewart of Houston, Tex., at the close of a three-day committee meeting.

Roberts, administratrix, etc., which was on trial in Supreme Court before Justice Francis Bergan Wednesday, was continued today. Lyons contends he performed services for defendant for which he was not compensated. Michael Nardone for plaintiff and Floyd W. Powell for defendant.

State Food Commission to Ask Permanent Nutrition Program Be Passed by Lawmakers

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—Governor Dewey's State Food Commission will ask the Legislature to enact a permanent nutritional program based in part on emergency measures of the current food crisis.

Chairman Herman E. Hilleboe, in announcing the plan today, said the 11-member commission opposed mandatory food rationing and price control within New York, but added:

"As need and resources change, this question will be studied."

He emphasized that the commission favored President Truman's food conservation program stressing voluntary rationing in order to provide grain with which to feed hungry Europe.

Would Know How Much Is Due to Unions and Industry, Gwinn Says

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—A House labor subcommittee set out today to learn how much of the national housing shortage may be blamed on restrictive practices by building trades' unions and the construction industry.

Chairman Gwinn (R-N. Y.) said his group would concentrate on government officials at today's first hearing "to find out what the government knows about this problem."

"We want to know whether the government is going to restore freedom to the housing industry," he told reporters. "It is our belief that a lack of free exchange of labor and materials is the cause of the present shortage."

The first scheduled witness was Raymond Foley, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Administration, followed by Professor Corwin D. Edwards of Northwestern University, formerly a Justice Department attorney.

The hearings here will last two days. Gwinn said. The committee will then visit principal cities across the country to study building conditions.

"We are not announcing where we will go or when," Gwinn said, "because we sometimes find that we cannot get the information we want if our schedule is known in advance. We will go only to cities."

Pacific War Dead To Arrive Sunday At New York Base

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—The bodies of 296 Pacific war dead, the first to be returned here, will arrive in New York aboard six special railroad cars Sunday for routing to their destinations in five eastern states, the army port of embarkation says.

They will be sent by military hearse or train to their former homes in New Jersey, Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island and Connecticut, army officials said. No public ceremonies will be held here.

Body Is Identified As That of Seaman

Man's Name Is Reported to Be S. P. Bonnette; Papers Found in Clothing

The floating body of a man, washed near the banks of the Hudson, was found yesterday by a group of theological students in Esopus, and later was identified as that of a seaman drowned early last Thursday morning as he rowed out to a barge off Kingston in pre-dawn darkness.

He was Samuel Philip Bonnette, 46, of 100 Mabel street, Bunkie, La., whose name previously was listed in the sheriff's office as Samuel Deashtite, on information given by barge captain William Parker.

State police recovered the body after it was discovered by students of the Mt. St. Alphonsus school in Esopus. It was washed near the Mt. St. Alphonsus dock, Corp. John Metzger said.

The body was then taken to the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, where it was identified by Parker, a friend of Bonnette, and by papers found in his clothing.

Parker, who had been held in the county jail on a charge of public intoxication, was brought to view the body by County Investigator Clayton Vredenburg. After making the identification, Parker was released.

State police immediately notified Bonnette's mother, Mrs. Canella Bonnette, who lives in Louisiana, of his death. No funeral or burial arrangements have yet been decided.

Bonnette and Parker came to Kingston Oct. 8 aboard a scow which was to pick up a load of stone. The scow, or barge, was tied in the center of the river with a group of other barges, and Bonnette and Parker rowed ashore.

Later, Parker told the sheriff's office it was decided that Bonnette should return to the scow and take charge of it on its scheduled trip to Greenpoint, Brooklyn.

Sheriff's men interviewed a Kingston taxi driver who reported that he had driven a man to East Strand and quoted the man as saying he planned to row out to a barge in the center of the river. This was approximately 1:30 a. m.

Speculation Is Blamed For Increase

Truman Cites Great Gambling in Various Exchanges; Meat Is Being Checked

Plans No Rations

President Does Point to 'Boots Since End of Controls'

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—President Truman said today that Attorney General Clark is investigating gambling in grains and fibers on commodity exchanges.

Mr. Truman spoke out against gambling in commodities at a news conference, during which he attributed much of increased food costs to such speculation.

He also said that he thinks the food conservation program is showing signs of success.

"The President saw no immediate need for the return to food rationing and other such controls. He called them police-state methods usable only in extreme emergencies."

In a stern manner, Mr. Truman said there is a tremendous amount of gambling on the commodity exchanges. He said that the wheat crop had been traded in eight or nine times on the Chicago Board of Trade alone.

Questioned by reporters as to whether government purchases for foreign relief are largely responsible for prevailing high prices, the President said while this buying has had some effect it is not considerable. He added that the United States always has exported a third or more of its wheat crop.

In response to another question, the President said Clark took up the exchanges investigation on his own initiative. Asked if the investigation also includes meat, he said food meat is traded on the commodity exchanges.

Asked if a grand jury in Chicago already is investigating the meat packers, the President said yes.

Mr. Truman's Citizens' Food Committee went ahead today seeking final food-saving agreements with the nation's bakers and brewers.

A reporter noted that the White House has canceled its usual formal dinners this year and asked if that was intended to set a national example.

The President said the White House action was taken in the belief that the war was the saving of a considerable food supply.

But he added that it is not incumbent on anyone else to follow suit unless they desire to do so.

Smiling, he said he saw no reason why the White House News Photographers Association should not go ahead with their scheduled dinner next month.

Mr. Truman said that he had had replies from 23 or 24 governors to his plea for their cooperation in the food conservation program. All promised cooperation, he said, making him believe the food program is well on its way to success.

The President sharply told the newsmen those who predicted prices would not rise when rationing and price controls were removed had been mistaken.

He pulled out a chart which he showed reporters and said it reflected the sharp rises which have occurred since controls went off.

As for purchases for foreign consumption, he said he thought they had very little to do with increased prices.

Asked whether the situation may eventually require an effort to restore controls, the President replied that he couldn't answer that—that he would have to see how the situation works out. That would apply to rent controls, too, he said.

Some of the reporters sought to draw him out on whether poultryless Thursdays are advisable, contending that the more chickens that are left alive the more there will be to eat grain.

Mr. Truman said that was like

U.S. Jet Fighters Are Becoming Superior Now

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—The United States is only now equipping its air force with jet fighters superior to those used by the German Luftwaffe more than two and a half years ago, an American fighter plane expert declared today.

The officer, a former fighter pilot now assigned to air force headquarters, said the German ME262 which engaged Allied bombing forces in the closing months of the European war was the best jet fighter made until the United States started production of the P-84 Thunder-jet.

The first delivery of the P-84s to air force operational organizations began only a few months ago.

The performance of the German-designed jet fighter, the officer said, was superior to the American P-80. Although put into production before the war's end the P-80 did not see any combat service.

Most of the jet fighter units of the air force are equipped with P-80 models, which, however, have been improved somewhat in design as production proceeded. The officer, who preferred to remain anonymous, made his comment in answer to questions in an interview. He emphasized the need for intensive effort in pure science research and design in military aircraft. He pointed out that the time lag between the start of blueprinting a combat airplane and the first flight of an experimental model is three to five years.

While the U.S.A.F. has begun conversion of its fighter force to jets, the number of these aircraft in operation is still a substantial minority. If the air force had to fight a war now, said the officer, "it would be mostly fought by standard, propeller airplanes."

40,000 Go on Strike In French Ports

All Shipping Is Virtually Halted in Move for Wage Raises

Paris, Oct. 16 (AP)—A strike of 40,000 merchant seamen and shore workers for wage increases halted virtually all shipping in French ports today as the government strove desperately to cope with Paris' crippling transport strike.

A tenth of Paris' subway workers, represented by two independent unions, voted to end their three-day strike, despite the appeals of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (C.G.T.) to stand firm. The C.G.T. controls the key personnel and could halt efforts for a partial restoration of service.

In most ports, French and foreign vessels were forced to dock without the aid of tugs. U.S. lines officials in Le Havre negotiated for special consideration for the luxury liner America, due at that channel port tomorrow.

Nine vessels were blocked in Bordeaux and four at Le Havre by the strike, in which seamen seek 15 per cent wage increases. A number of other vessels were caught at Marseille, Cherbourg and other ports.

Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier, noting that France's municipal elections will be held next Sunday, has suggested the subway and bus lines strike was politically motivated. Yesterday he succeeded in averting a nationwide railway strike and last night he staved off a threatened strike of France's gas and electricity workers who demanded immediate application of the 11 per cent increase in wages approved in principle by the government last July.

The premier met with traction experts today to find some means of getting Paris' stalled subway system working, at least partially, with the 3,300 employees who agreed to return to their jobs. The system normally employs 33,000.

Howard Shurter, director of the service agency and State Veterans Counselors Donald Moore and Morgan Ryan remind survivors of service personnel that provisions of the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946 may entitle them to a cash settlement for the unused leave of a deceased veteran. They pointed out that in case a former member of the armed forces dies after separation, and before he made claim for unused leave, settlement for any amount due will be made in cash to a survivor or survivors, provided such survivors make claim prior to Sept. 1, 1948. Interested persons should contact the Agency for complete information and assistance in securing their entitlements.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 16, 1947

UNDER FOUR PRESIDENTS

A man who served four Presidents will on October 26 be honored by a memorial tablet in Washington. This was Oscar S. Straus of New York, minister to Turkey under Presidents Cleveland and McKinley, ambassador to Turkey under Taft, and secretary of commerce and labor under Theodore Roosevelt. Straus, as an independent not bound by party, supported Cleveland and the Democrats until Bryan and free silver got control of the party. Then he was a liberal Republican until he followed T. R. on his Bull Moose bolt in 1912. He died in 1926.

Straus was notable as the first Jew to hold a cabinet position. Theodore Roosevelt welcomed his appointment because it proved his freedom from racial or religious prejudice. The tablet to be erected by the Oscar S. Straus Memorial Association is especially appropriate because this body aims to further religious tolerance.

Besides the four Presidents under whom he served, three others are associated with this memorial. Calvin Coolidge signed the bill authorizing the site, Herbert Hoover is honorary president of the Association, and the tablet will be formally received by President Truman.

The bloody riots between Moslems, Sikhs and Hindus must make many persons in India wonder if it was such a good idea after all to get rid of the British. But maybe they like they own way best; riots and all. Some people always have to learn the hard way.

RECIPE FOR FICTION

The 900,000 members of the Book-of-the-Month Club are currently receiving for their October designated reading a book that will take them back to a time before the Atom Bomb rose to plague mankind, before Hitler walked or Stalin sulked. It is When the Mountain Fell, and has to do with a catastrophe concerned only with nature, a landslide of 200 years ago that brought tragedy to a handful of villagers in the Swiss Alps. The author, a Frenchman, Charles Ramuz, unfortunately died last spring before he could know that almost a million Americans would be dutifully reading his book.

The story avoids both psychological and political "problems". Nevertheless it manages to be a gripping bit of fiction because it uses the old ingredients of romance: love and fear. These two human emotions remain pretty much the same whatever the century or the place.

A Cleveland man boasts of eating his way around the world. Sure, it can be done if you have the dough. Also the time. Most of us are thankful to be able to eat our way around a dinner plate.

WOMEN AS JUDGES

Lawyers, if anybody, should know good judges from bad. A poll of the local bar association often helps the average voter to decide what judge to vote for.

One midwestern city bar association has conducted such a poll for years, with one notable fact emerging. Though women often run for judicial office and some have been repeatedly elected, no woman candidate has ever yet been approved by this bar association.

Are the lawyers-right in believing that women lack the essential qualifications for a judgeship, or are they just voicing out-of-date and rather stupid prejudices?

Once more, as a poetic soul observed, "The autumn leaves are falling, falling everywhere—falling through the atmosphere and likewise through the air."

SO-CALLED UNANIMITY

What could be a more transparent deception than the unanimous elections of totalitarian states? "One hundred million people," says Louis Fischer, expert on Russia, in his new book, Gandhi and Stalin, "do not agree on anything. They would not agree that telephones are necessary, that bathing is healthy, that bread is good. They would certainly not all vote for Stalin (or Tito or Franco or

THE PRESIDENT'S DILEMMA

President Truman's foreign policy has become fixed in opposition to Soviet Russia's imperialistic expansion and to spread of Communism in Europe, Asia, Africa and South America. The Truman Doctrine and the Marshall Plan and our general position in the United Nations are in conformity to this plan.

The Russians have fully recognized the nature of the American policy and have responded by a world-wide propaganda against this country, by the public revival of the Comintern which never went out of existence, and by the unspeakable boorishness of Vishinsky in the United Nations.

In spite of the recent converts to anti-Communism, whose outcries are loudest in exact ratio to their erstwhile appeasement of Russia and their subservience to Left-Wing propaganda within the United States during the war, this apparent impulse does not lead to a fighting war. For whereas both countries are very angry, neither wants further destruction of Europe, which could only be turned into a desert as the wars of Genghis Khan turned the once lively cities of Central Asia to wilderness. Those who shriek most for war with Stalin now were most vehement in their demands for war with Germany and Japan not so long ago.

The President is pursuing a correct and in most respects a careful course in the face of great difficulties at home as well as in Europe. The socialism of Great Britain, which has upset the balance in Europe and produced havoc in Asia, has complicated America's policy, which has a habit of partnership with Great Britain. The unwillingness of European labor to work and the natural hoarding of food-stuffs by European farmers have caused economic difficulties in the West. The partition of India, the rise of the Arab states, the Palestinian partition, the Indonesian revolt, the Viet-Nam revolt, the intensification of civil war in China have added to our burdens. No man can be too wise in piloting his country through all these shoals to peace and Mr. Truman has done as well as might have been expected.

At home, however, he faces a dilemma that is inevitable in our system of government and in the current lack of public morality. Here Soviet Russia maintains an indigenous Fifth Column which consists not only of the Communist Party, the various Soviet police agents, spies, commercial and engineering representatives, but also a huge body of men and women who during the past decade and a half have for one reason or another become extremely pro-Russian. It must be remembered that during the whole of the Roosevelt regime, it was both popular and profitable to be pro-Russian and pro-Communist. And whereas some can twist from one position to another in a flash, those who rationalize their positions into philosophic systems find it difficult to undo what they have said and written. It is easier for a dog to return to its vomit than for most men to confess error.

Mr. Truman, in a moment of enthusiasm, demanded a loyalty test for government officials and Congress gave him the money and instructed the Civil Service Commission to do the cleaning up. Nothing has been done. The questionnaire issued by the Commission is a joke. It can prove nothing. In fact, Congress is now investigating the Commission to discover the cause of its failure.

The President's dilemma is clear and is one horn of the President's dilemma. A complete and total break with the pro-Russian and even slightly pro-Communist allies of the Democratic Party would reduce the President's vote in 1948 to assure his defeat. Henry Wallace has amalgamated all these elements into a notable personal following, estimated to be as high as 5,000,000 votes, which he uses to force the President to compromise his position and to display the paradox of fighting Communism everywhere in the world except in the United States.

There can be no question but the President's heart is in the right place—but politics is politics and an election is around the corner. Too many C.I.O. unions are Communist-dominated and it is therefore hopeless to expect a consistent anti-Fifth Column effort by the government until the 1948 election is out of the way. The Russians know that too.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

NEED OF GRINDING TEETH

With the outbreak of World War I thousands of Brits in the United States, Canada and other countries hurried to enlist only to find that regulations regarding teeth caused many to be rejected.

In my own experience I could send a non-commissioned officer down the line of waiting recruits, and he would advise about seven in every 20 that they would be rejected because they did not have two grinding teeth, one above and one below, that came together when chewing food. Those two opposing teeth were required on one side only.

It was this rejection of so many recruits because of their teeth that started the expression: "We want to show the enemy, not eat them." Fortunately, later during the war the use of dental plates was allowed, and in World War II the work of the Dental Corps before, during and after was outstanding.

What about civilians who have not enough chewing teeth? With the soft foods available is there really need for grinding teeth?

Our dental research workers state that pyorrhea is one result of eating hard foods, as the teeth give the gums an impact that helps the circulation when hard foods are eaten.

However, that the teeth are needed to break up the foods and get them mixed well with the digestive juice of the mouth (the saliva) is well known, and also that it is this mixing with the saliva that prepares the food for digestion by the stomach digestive juice (gastric juice). If this is not done, inflammation of the lining of the stomach (gastritis) may occur.

In "Review of Gastroenterology" (stomach and intestines), Dr. A. Rodriguez-Oliveros reviews the histories of 3,684 patients with disturbances of the stomach and intestines, and reports that he found 168 who had so few teeth that they could not chew their food properly. Nearly half of these cases had acute inflammation of the lining of the stomach, whereas the remaining 3516 patients with sufficient chewing or grinding teeth only 6 per cent had gastritis.

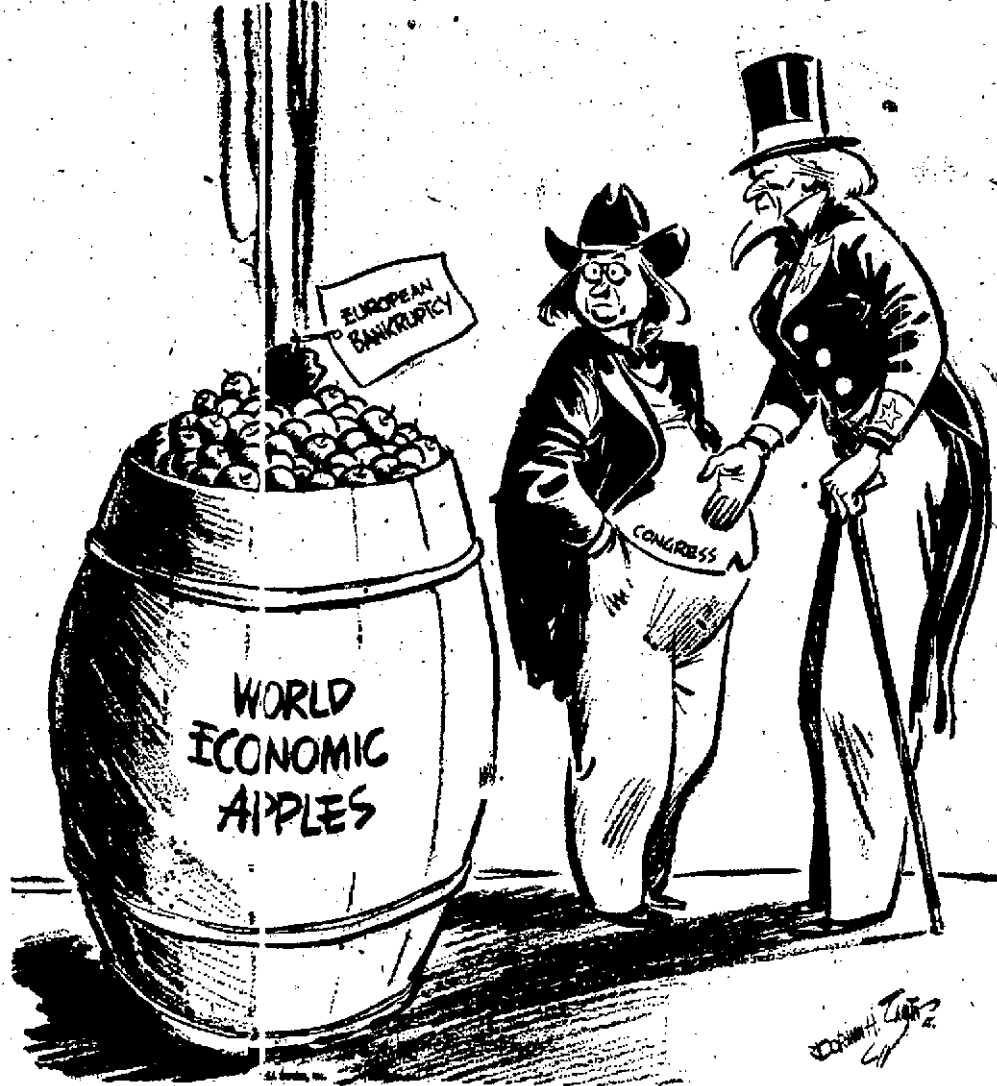

That food properly divided by the teeth and mixed with the saliva prevents "mechanical" irritation of the stomach would seem to be proved by these figures.

A Stitch in Time Saves Our Apples, Too!

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. 15.—In the years before 1932 we read much moralistic political literature about the sordid bosses of the Republican machines. I need not call the roll to those who were then able to sit up and take notice of political affairs and it would not interest new citizens of the generation which had to fight the war who were only children then. One of them was Boss Tweed, a monster of hideous men, whose like would never walk the earth again if the party of Roosevelt, the New Deal, were given a chance to destroy evil and purify the beautiful Democratic process. And there were the Ohio gang who had nominated Warren G. Harding in a smoke-filled room, frustrating the will of the people, although the people elected Harding and Coolidge and rejected Cox and Roosevelt a few months later.

The contrast between the pretenses and the actual moral of these Democrats is so terrible that it stuns. I doubt that the people of today realize what awful cynics these were who came appealing to them as crusaders and reformers. Without knowing it, we are dazed by many blows that have been numbered our sense of right and wrong.

The memoirs are still accumulating. We have had Jim Farley's and Ed Flynn's. Ed Kelly, who quietly picked up his hat and left politics by a side door into the alley after he had wrought great harm to the American people's confidence in self-government, has told us his story in a hasty, superficial series in the Chicago Herald-American. He withheld much. But, even so, his mere recount of the nomination of Henry Wallace in 1940 and of Harry Truman in 1944 is a chapter in degradation.

I may be naive in believing that the people matter; that it is important that their confidence in self-government be maintained. But, if the people, too, grow cynical and all of them come to think of politics as a dirty racket, the men who disillusioned them will be finally responsible for a calamity much worse than the loss of any mere election and the graft and the gaudy power to tear up traffic tickets.

We have had the stories of Farley, Kelly, Ed Flynn, Madam Perkins and Elliott, and now Morgenthau is running serially and about to be released in a book nothing wrong in his conduct. It was bad judgment but not immoral.

Flynn also tells us that for many years Nathan Strauss, Sr., and since his death, Nathan Strauss, Jr., have donated $1,000 a year to the New York Democratic organization. He says frankly that the elder Mr. and Mrs. Strauss called on the late boss Charlie Murphy and asked him pleadingly to name their son-in-law, Irving Lehman, to the Court of Appeals of the State of New York. This is the highest court in the state, mind you, and mind you further, Murphy and Flynn had no right to give such an appointment, still less to sell it.

Nevertheless, Flynn says, he and Murphy "were Irish and highly emotional," and Murphy turned to him "near to tears" when the old couple had gone and said, "how could anyone refuse that sweet old couple?"

Accordingly, Lehman got the job. And on top of this confession comes a challenge from Robert Moses, who loathes corruption in politics and hates a liar.

"Ed, of course knew," Mr. Moses said, "and so did many of his readers, that the fine old couple brought a check for $25,000 with them, that being the current quotation for a judicial nomination, my authorities are Governor Smith and the judge, himself, who, by the way, turned out to be a most able and respected head of our judicial system."

This was the quality of the man whom Roosevelt cherished so well that he wanted to plant him in the Senate by a trick to do his work in the fulfillment of the beautiful ideal of democracy.

Crime Is at Zero Mark
Algonquin, Ill., Oct. 16 (AP)—Police in this small northern Illinois community have kept crime at the zero mark for several months but now they are trying to solve one in which they were the victims. Burglars broke into the police station and stole two revolvers, three boxes of cartridges, 10 special police badges, keys to the jail and the town waterworks. Chief Lafe Benthusen and his one-man force, Policeman Stanley Bird, decided to call in Sheriff Fred Bau of McHenry county to help capture the burglars.

Phone Operators Anxious to Return From Florida Area

Barbara Tongue, Theresa Tressaloni Get Fill of Hurricanes and Torrential Rains

Two Kingston young women who, decided they wanted a change are only too glad to come back to Kingston as soon as they can make the trip.

Miss Barbara Tongue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tongue, 20 Belvedere street, and Miss Theresa Tressaloni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Tressaloni, 34 Hanratty street, have had enough hurricanes and torrential rains at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Miss Tongue and Miss Tressaloni, who have been employed by the local office of the New York Telephone Company, asked for a year's leave of absence this summer so they could see some of the rest of the world. They accepted jobs with the telephone company in Fort Lauderdale and left about three weeks ago.

"We haven't seen the sun since we came down here," Miss Tongue told her mother in a telephone conversation last week. "We are just plain frightened at the terrible storms, and we're coming home as soon as possible," she said.

The young women arrived at Fort Lauderdale shortly after the much heralded hurricane had passed. They were marooned at the telephone building for two days and then two more days at their boarding house, where they are living on the second floor.

They report such torrential rains that it takes three-quarters of an hour to go two blocks. "We never go to work with our shoes on our feet. . . . We have to carry them," Miss Tongue said.

Fear of a typhoid epidemic has made inoculations necessary and Mrs. Tongue said today that health precautions may be the reason the young women have not started home.

Miss Tongue and Miss Tressaloni said that they have been working at the switchboards throughout storms "which seem to come one right after another." The city is flooded with "water up to the waist."

The winter tourists have started to arrive and the women report difficulties in housing.

Both the Tongues and the Tressalonis are anxiously waiting to hear that their daughters are on their way home. Mrs. Tongue said this morning.

Mother Nature sometimes put male wings on the body of a female butterfly.

The boys in St. Paul, Minn., believe in getting a head start on the promotion of their annual tournament. The dates of Jan. 30 to Feb. 2, 1948, have been established for this event, which will be conducted in conjunction with the St. Paul Winter Carnival. I know that quite a number of the eastern players will make the trip to this tournament, as those of us who went out there last winter were surprised both by the large attendance and the fine caliber of bridge.

Today's hand is one that came up when Peter Levitt and I played in St. Paul. South elected to open the bidding with a diamond rather than the four-card spade suit. North was a little conservative with his bid of one heart, but, imagine his surprise when his partner bid two no trump. That bid was rather optimistic, but North could not be criticized for his jump to six no trump. As a matter of fact, some players might have responded with seven no trump.

The opening lead was won by declarer with the jack of clubs. The ten of hearts was played. West refused to cover and East won the trick with the queen. Any return except a heart would have made the play of the hand simple for the declarer. But a heart was returned and won in the dummy, then declarer ran all of the hearts and all of the clubs. On the last club East was squeezed. He either had to blank down to the king of diamonds or discard one of his spades.

Prizes will be given for the best costumes.

Modern and square dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and continue to midnight, when the Spanake orchestra from Wittenberg will be on hand.

One of the unusual features will be a pumpkin head contest, entries for which will be limited to the Girl and Boy Scouts in the town. The judges for this contest have not as yet been announced but it is understood several worthwhile awards will be made.

The Girl Scouts are giving this party to the children and their parents in appreciation for the wonderful support given the troops during the summer on the occasion of the Scout benefit held at the Maverick Theatre. The girls will make their own food and favors for their party.

David Fairbanks of Woodstock will be master of ceremonies.

Boy Scouts Are Treated To Trip for Efforts

Woodstock, Oct. 16.—As a reward for the earnest effort put forth by certain Woodstock Boy Scouts in obtaining the awards of Star and Life scouts, Walter S. Van Wageningen, scout master, and Warren Hully, scout committee member, took Carl Constant and Fred Mower, Star Scouts, and Paul Van Wageningen and Malcolm Carmichael on a Scout trip last week-end. First Class Scout, Carl Van Wageningen was also included in the group.

The group left Woodstock on Friday, driving to Devils Tombs, near Chichester, where they camped over night in the State Park. No sooner had the boys made camp when a porcupine arrived on the scene, much to the delight of the young people. Saturday, the party drove on to Gilboa dam and visited the Cooperstown Baseball Museum. More sightseeing followed before continuing in Chocoma Lake where they camped over night. Bright and early Sunday morning they were on their way to Schroon Lake and Port Clinton, where they camped about 20 miles below the fort. Most of the day Monday was devoted to sightseeing in Saratoga.

The boys had a wonderful time and it is expected that many scouts in town will be heard at work throughout the year in the hope that they, too may be so fortunate another year.

During the entire trip, the campers cooked their meals over open fires.

To Speak Here Sunday

There will be a period of hymn singing each evening as well as special music. A cordial invitation is extended to all members and friends of the church and to the public.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Oct. 16.—The completed registration roll of the First Olive election district reveals a total of 448 potential voters of whom 213 are males and 235 females. Young persons who have become of voting age and whose names have been entered upon the roll include the following: Kenneth Davis and Ernest Bode of Ashokan; Robert Adsit, Norman North, Abram Osterhout and Joyce Thayer of Shokan; and Robert Robeson of Boiceville.

Homestead, Mr. and Mrs. West and painter, is applying a new coat of colonial yellow to the exterior of Murray Slavin's house on the mountain road.

Two of the Brunel Indian statues at Boiceville have been moved to new bases farther up the slope of Snyder's Hill. One of the statues broke in two when a derrick cable snapped but this damage was repaired satisfactorily.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slesker last Friday evening included Floyda Wells and daughter, Elizabeth, of Medford and Frank Miller of Los Altos, Cal.

Our Old Timer informs us that nearly every morning when he goes out at the crack of dawn to draw a fresh pail of water, he sees four deer grazing in his low meadow down in front of the house. It seems that the deer come out of the woods where they spend the night out of the dew and frost, and feed leisurely upon the aftermath, or roven, which is still luxuriant and green following the late harvesting. "The noble looking critters now have their winter grey coats on and, of course, their white legs, hobbling around," says O. T., who gets quite a kick out of observing the actions of deer and other wild animals on his isolated farm.

Thursday evening, Oct. 15, 1874, a large audience heard Susannah Evans deliver one of her stirring temperance lectures at the Dutch Church in the old village of Shokan. Temperance orators almost invariably held forth to a full house in the old days when Drys and Democrats predominated in Olive.

Edward Lee of the mountain road has employment on the big Route 28 job. Lee, a Mr. Lee, a corner to Shokan plans to house well over a thousand heavy-breed hens and pullets in his two-story chicken house next winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindal of Holbrook, L. I., expect to come here later in October to occupy the new house which they bought of Mrs. Frank Barringer recently. Mrs. Lindal is a sister of Edward Berg of the Church Hill section of Shokan and an aunt of Sonja Berg, local K.H.S. student.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Kenny, former summer residents of the east end of the village spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Englar in Ashokan.

Echo of Past: Forty years ago, actual construction work on the great Ashokan Reservoir was getting into full swing. During 1907, the contracts for the Olive Bridge Dam and Beaverkill dike, waste weir, the dividing weir gate chamber and that portion of the Catskill aqueduct from the gate chamber to the toe of the Beaverkill dike, together with various channels near the dividing weir, was awarded to McArthur, Eros & Winston Co. Preparatory work done between September 5 and the close of the year included grading and laying of a railroad between the U. & D. R.R. tracks at Brown's and the main dam site, erection of machine shop, placing of foundations for compressor plant and construction of labor camps. Also vegetation was cleared from site of north wing of dam at Winchell Hill and from large part of Beaverkill dike. The contractors "got right down to business" and kept at it for years until the job was finished.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Winchell of Port Ewen were callers here Sunday in the course of a drive through the reservoir country. The couple formerly resided in Kingston. Virgil, a native of West Shokan, is a talented violinist and has

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Selective strength persisted in today's stock market although many tired looking leaders rested at slightly lower levels.

There was some selling by quick-turn traders and professionals after five straight advancing sessions. Commission house customers continued to nibble here and there but the majority held aloof to await economic developments at home and abroad. Dividends and earnings still provided bullish incentives.

Dealings, fairly lively at the opening, soon slowed. While gains of fractions to a point or so were plentiful near the fourth hour, the losing column was well populated. Peaks for 1947 were touched by Thomas Steel, Mullins Mfg. Warren Petroleum, Tidewater Oil and J. I. Case. Ahead most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, Southern Pacific, Houston Oil, Texas Co., Bendix Home Appliances, Paramount Pictures, du Pont and Western Union. Lagards included Youngstown Sheet, International Harvester, Oliver Corp., Goodrich, American Telephone, Anaconda, American Can, Sears Roebuck, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central and Air Reduction.

Grains enjoyed another bulge. Bonds were narrow.

where we are wanted, and where city officials are ready to help us out.

The investigation will cover the operations of 10 major unions, Gwin said. These are carpenters, electricians, painters, bricklayers and masons, plasterers and laborers, plumbers, glaziers, hod carriers and laborers, engineers, and steel and iron workers.

Officials in most of the larger cities of the country have been given questionnaires to guide them in assembling information, Gwin said. Major points mentioned are extortion, sabotage and intimidation, make-work practices, jurisdictional rivalries, and individual union regulations such as initiation fees and dues.

"People are asking us how the Taft-Hartley law affects housing," Gwin explained, "and we are going to show them. We will show that it was written to open up the building trades to apprentices and non-union workers and to cut out the prohibitive dues and fees some unions charge."

Woman Sentenced

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 15 (AP)—Pleading guilty to embezzlement, Mrs. Helen R. Fournier, 45 of Bristol, former chief teller of the Bristol Bank and Trust Company, today was sentenced to the state prison for women for a term of three to eight years, and fined $3,000. In imposing sentence, Superior Court Judge James E. Murphy said that it seemed incredible that in these days and times, Connecticut banks still maintain what amounts to a single-entry system of bookkeeping. State's Attorney Meade Alcorn placed the amount of the shortage at the bank, as accurately as it can be determined, as $153,731.58. Her speculations, he said, amounted to from $100,000 to $125,000, the difference between these figures and the total shortage being represented in interest.

Maine May Close Forests to Hunters; Score of Fires Rage

Augusta, Me., Oct. 16 (AP)—With a score of fires raging in widely scattered areas of Maine's powder-dry woodlands, Forestry Commissioner Raymond E. Rendall said he would confer today with Governor Horace A. Hildreth on the possibility of closing the woods to hunting.

Bird hunting is underway in Maine and the deer season opens in six counties next Tuesday.

From Greenwood, near the New Hampshire border to Centerville near the New Brunswick line, fires continued to spread, mostly in second growth. None has damaged any homes.

New Hampshire and Vermont had closed their woods as a precautionary measure.

Massachusetts Fire Warden Joseph Peabody described it as the most serious fall drought in 33 years.

The worst of Massachusetts' fires had subsided but several still burned in scattered areas extending from the Cape Cod section to the North Shore.

Hurricane Fades Out in Georgia

Floods Cover Rich Truck Farming Areas in Miami Area

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 16 (AP)—A once howling tropical hurricane was only a whisper among South Georgia pines today after a damaging, footloose march which carried it across Florida's tip out into the Atlantic and back to pound at Georgia's coast.

The Caribbean born storm left in its wake a trail of human discomfort and relatively minor property damage—uprooted trees, fallen power and telephone lines, leaky roofs, broken windows and twisted and torn signs.

There were other aftermaths of the storm, however, which could not be lightly dismissed.

Floods still covered rich truck farming areas in Southern Florida around Miami and a heavy surf was still beating at the coast from Florida to South Carolina.

Only one casualty was attributable directly to the hurricane. Neill McCord, 35-year-old Negro lumberjack of Thomaston, Ga., was killed when a tree crashed upon his cabin near Charleston, S. C.

The damage at Savannah was estimated officially at $1,000,000. At Savannah Beach on Tybee, a resort playground, the damage was placed at $500,000.

For the most part the full fury of the storm, with winds up to 100 miles an hour, spent itself against the desolate, but picturesque Savannah, a paradise for water fowl.

Farther north, the high tides sent breakers smashing against and over seawalls.

Monticello, Thomas Jefferson's home, is in Albemarle county, Virginia.

Jacobson Auto Found in Jersey

an Who Took Car Is Held in Toledo, Is Police Report

The auto of Dr. Joseph Jacobson, which was stolen from in back of c Kingston Hospital last summer, apparently been taken by a member of a car-theft ring, it was learned today following a report at the car had been located. Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss said this morning that he had received information indicating that a man who took the car from Kingston city was later arrested at Toledo, Ohio.

The insurance company recently notified Dr. Jacobson that the auto had been located and the police received a message Wednesday afternoon. Dr. Jacobson, who was attending a meeting of a medical group in Sullivan county, could not be reached today.

Several instruments, the doctor's, and golf clubs, which had apparently been thrown from the car, were found recently near Catskill. They had been tossed in the woods far from the main highway.

The car, according to the report, is located in New Jersey, and a man held in Toledo was charged on a federal charge because a vehicle had been driven from a state to another.

Military Reveals Plans to Dismantle 682 German Plants

British and Americans Will Take Reparations in 'Speediest' Time Possible

Berlin, Oct. 16 (AP)—The British-American Military Governments today announced plans to dismantle 682 German industrial and war plants in their two zones for reparations in the "speediest" time possible to expedite European economic recovery.

Of the factories, 380 are metal, chemical and electric engineering, shipbuilding and power plants. The remainder are war plants from which the statement said much of the general purpose equipment already had been delivered to the inter-allied reparations agency, the Soviet Union and Poland.

The list prepared under the new level of industry plan for the combined western zones, compared with more than 1,600 plants in the fused zones which were considered for reparations under the old level of industry for all of Germany.

In a joint statement to the German people, Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Marshal Sir Spolt Douglas, the U. S. and British military governors, emphasized that the reparations plan was a "firm" one.

but said they would consider "well founded" suggestions for substitution of equivalent individual plants.

Publication of the list of plants to be dismantled has been awaited tensely by Germans since the new level of industry for the combined zones, providing for a ceiling production of 10,700,000 ingot tons of steel, was announced in late August.

German public officials and trade union leaders have attacked the British-American reparations policy as a blow to German economic revival and a source of unemployment. Trade unionists have threatened non-cooperation in dismantling the plants as well as strikes and demonstrations.

Disputes from the Ruhr forecast sit-down strikes in protest against dismantlings soon after the list was published.

The joint statement of the military governors declared: "We wish to make it clear that all necessary steps for the speediest possible fulfillment of the program will be taken so that on the one hand German industry may get ahead with its constructive tasks, and on the other hand, that the nations receiving reparations of capital plant and equipment may be able to turn these resources to good account during these next few years when the economic recovery of Europe must be expedited by every possible means."

Farm Policy Committee Heads for Southland

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee headed today for the south's cotton and tobacco fields to continue its study of long range farm policy.

The group, which spent the last three days in New England and Pennsylvania will hold another hearing at Rocky Mount, N. C., tomorrow.

Going south, the committee will travel in a chartered bus—the first time a Congressional committee has made an extensive tour by this mode of travel. Chairman Hope said the highway routes would permit a close inspection of agriculture.

Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss), told a reporter New England and Middle Atlantic farmers heard so far "like what they have in price supports, the parity concept and soil conservation. They are telling us they want this refined, expanded and made permanent."

Rep. Johnson, Illinois Republican, said: "We must continue intense soil conservation. Everybody seems to agree the application of mineral fertilizer should be continued. But this is some disagreement as to whether the government should pay for it or the farmer bear all the cost."

Farmers' Forum

Joint Meeting
A meeting of the directors of the Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association will be held tomorrow night at 8 p. m. at Farm Bureau offices, 74 John street, it was announced today. Mrs. W. A. Warren of Hurley, president, will preside.

The nine directors of each department and the county agents are expected to be present. Fall organization plans, membership campaigns and the 1948 budget will be discussed.

Meet the Candidates

Reginald H. Every of Mt. Tremper, Republican candidate for the office of supervisor of the town of Shandaken, who seeks re-election to that office this fall is well known throughout that township for his activities, not only in town affairs but in any civic matter which concerns the town of Shandaken. Born in Mt. Tremper, Reginald H. Every has always been a resident of the township and knows its people and its needs.

When Sheriff George Smith was named as the Republican candidate for sheriff, he resigned his position as supervisor of the town of Shandaken and at that time it became necessary to select a man to complete Sheriff Smith's term who was familiar with the town's business and who had the ability to continue to serve the town in the same highly efficient manner which Mr. Smith had. At that time Mr. Every was selected and he carried out the unexpired term of Sheriff Smith with such a splendid record that he was nominated and elected in 1945 for a full term. During the past two years his service has been of such a splendid nature that the citizens of the town again named him this fall as the Republican candidate to succeed himself.

People of the town of Shandaken know that whenever a job involving the welfare of the town appears, they have only to call upon Supervisor Every for his assistance. He has always taken an active part in all public affairs, special campaigns and drives and has served his fellow townspeople in many capacities in addition to serving as supervisor of the town.

Mr. Every has been a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Phoenixia District for several years and has also served as trustee of School District No. 7, town of Shandaken. In the recent movement to create a Central School District, Mr. Every has taken an active part. In numerous financial drives such as the U. S. O. Red Cross, hospital drives and many others, Mr. Every has served his town. On several of these drives he has served as chairman of the local committee. As a member of the executive board of the Greene-Ulster Council of Boy Scouts, he took an active part in scouting. At present he is chairman of the Scouts Western District and he is chairman of Troop No. 6 Troop Committee.

Since Mr. Every was appointed to fill out the vacancy created by the resignation of Sheriff George C. Smith, he has displayed unusual ability in the conduct of the town affairs and is well qualified to carry on the work.

Economy in operation of the town's business and at the same time maintaining the town equipment and keeping all of the roads of the township in good repair have been his chief aim and the efficiency with which he has carried out this job is well known to all of the people of the town of Shandaken.

In the Board of Supervisors for the past two years Mr. Every has served as chairman of the committee on Supervisors Bills and he has been a member of several other committees including the committee on Sheriff and the committee on Farm and Footing of Assessment Roll.

His past service is a recommendation to all voters of his town to return him to the Board of Supervisors for a continuance of the present good government of the town of Shandaken.

Balminess Today Recalls 80's of Warm '46 October

Today's bright morning gave promise of sending the mercury to record heights, but the feeling that the temperature must be a record for this time of the year was put in its place following a call to the city engineer's office.

There it was learned that the temperature not only reached the seventies in mid-October last year, but had spurred to 80 and 83 at the end of the month.

The temperature at 11:30 a. m. today was 73. It was 68 a year ago, but went up to 73 the next day, reached 74 on October 23, and hit the eighties for the final days of the month.

Today, incidentally, is the 24th consecutive day without rain and many home owners of the region dependent upon well water were becoming gravely concerned. Hunters also appeared to be growing reconciled to the idea that the season may be postponed.

After reaching maturity, trees lose vigor and eventually, subject to diseases and pests, die.

Kingston Woman Held for Bigamy

Mrs. Violet Brown Miller Jones, grey-haired 47-year-old housewife, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of bigamy and held in the county jail for grand jury action. The woman was arrested by county investigator Clayton Vredenburg and Identification Officer Leonard Belmont at her home, 49 Cedar street.

She was arraigned before Justice Percy Bush, Town of Ulster—the same justice who had married her to Napoleon Jones Oct. 3, the sheriff's office reported.

District Attorney Louis Bruhn charged that the woman had married Alfred Miller, a mason, in 1938 and had lived with him in Glenford until 1943, when they separated. On October 3, without divorcing Miller, the woman married Jones, it was charged. Miller now resides in Rosendale. The couple had no children.

Columbus, O., Oct. 16 (AP)—Two potential presidential candidates, Senator Robert A. Taft and former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, will discuss national candidate seeking delegates. The Ohio delegation already is pledged to Taft, who last night declared in Cincinnati that he would announce "some time next week" whether he would seek the Republican presidential nomination.

Official Is Silent On Results of 3rd Reznick Autopsy

Lake George, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP)—District Attorney J. Clarence Herlihy remained silent today concerning results of a third autopsy, ordered after rumors of a throat injury heightened the mystery surrounding the death of 23-year-old Reva Reznick.

The remains were exhumed in Pittsburgh, Pa., and the autopsy was performed yesterday in New York city by Chief Medical Examiner Thomas A. Gonzales, as a Warren county grand jury continued its probe of the case.

The attractive New York city nurse's body, bearing many bruises, was found Aug. 1 in shallow water off a beach near the hotel where she had been vacationing. The bellhop she dated the previous night said that he had struck her on the mouth when she resisted his advances in a parked automobile but that she then left him and disappeared.

Herlihy said last night: "I arranged with Dr. Gonzales and Dr. Halpern, his assistant, to conduct a complete autopsy on the body of this girl, including the throat, because of rumors which came to me concerning a throat injury and because of the apparent difference of opinion as to the cause of death from the first two autopsies."

"The autopsy was performed today and I have not received at this time a written report from the doctors and will not be free to disclose its contents until the close of the grand jury investigation."

Dr. Gonzales said in New York that he had made a "verbal report" to Herlihy and would add a detailed written report as soon as possible. He said the three-hour autopsy at Bellevue Hospital had included chemical and microscopic analysis of the vital organs.

At an inquest three weeks after Miss Reznick's death, Dr. Morris Maslon of the Warren County Laboratory submitted an autopsy report giving "asphyxia due to drowning" as the cause. Dr. Wray D. Storey, Pittsburgh pathologist, also conducted an examination and concluded the cause was "multiple contusions of face, trunk and extremities."

Dr. Storey, who acted at the request of Miss Reznick's relatives in Pittsburgh, will appear Friday before the grand jury, Herlihy said.

The panel of 19 men and one woman began its closed hearings Tuesday after the Reznick family and friends had protested a coroner's verdict of accidental death on the ground "foul play" was evident.

The jury took the testimony from 13 persons in the first two days. John Finn, 23, of Stamford, Conn., the summer hotel bellhop who escorted Miss Reznick on a party the night of July 31, was not among them. Herlihy said he would ask Finn to sign a waiver of immunity so that Finn's testimony could be used against him should the occasion arise.

The hearings might not end Friday, as originally planned, He lihy said.

Princess, Husband Won't Be Driven In State Carriage

London, Oct. 16 (AP)—Plans for Princess Elizabeth and Philip Mountbatten to drive through London streets in a state carriage after their wedding Nov. 20 have been called off as a safety precaution, it was learned today.

The royal family resolved upon the cancellation, qualified sources said, after being informed by the cabinet that Scotland Yard and the Home Office felt such a drive involved risks, "doubtless remote," which should not be taken.

The newlyweds were to have made a short swing through the central part of the capital, either in an open landau or "glass" coach, after the ceremonies in Westminster Abbey for the benefit of crowds which might not otherwise see them. Under the revised arrangements, they will return immediately to Buckingham Palace with the King and Queen.

"It isn't that anyone expects anything untoward to happen," one source said, "but the police and other authorities simply do not care to take chances."

Meanwhile, special detectives and officials at Britain's ports are keeping close tab on new arrivals so that undesirables may be prevented from reaching London. One official said the coming of so many wealthy and distinguished guests, including foreign royalty, was bound to attract international crooks and stir up the domestic ones with dazzling hopes of loot.

Authorities realize also that political or racial agitators—even terrorists—might try to exploit the day, and therefore are on guard against such possibilities, too, the sources said.

EAT WELL for Less

BEANS SPARK A LOW-COST BUFFET

Peach Irish linen, brown bean pots, and rich dark green of a real Savoy cabbage make a cheerful scheme for a hearty buffet.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

For a hearty buffet after the football game or for the bridge club at night, here's a way to entertain well for less.

Use a rich peach Irish linen tablecloth in a plain weave to make a pleasing color combination with brown glazed bean pots and a real Savoy cabbage filled with cole slaw for a centerpiece. Use a cabbage with perfect outer leaves. Curl them back carefully and cut out the hard center. Insert a plain glass bowl inside the curling, crinkled dark green leaves; cover with a damp towel until dinner time; then heap with slaw.

Boston Baked Beans (Fast Method) (Serves 12)
Four cups dry navy beans, 1/2 pound salt pork, 1 cup molasses, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 3 cups boiling water (from simmered beans).

Wash beans, pick over and soak for 3 hours in boiling water to cover. Cover, bring to boil in same water (to preserve minerals and vitamins) adding extra water if needed to cover well; skim; cook slowly until tender—about 50 minutes.

Drain beans, reserving cooking liquid.

Southeast Florida Experiences Worst Everglades Flood

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Oct. 16 (AP)—Southeast Florida continued its fight against encroaching waters of the worst Everglades flood in years today with conditions reported improving slightly in some areas and worsening in others. Engineers studying the overall picture in the 5,000,000-acre flood area still assigned the most critical rating to a three-week-old battle to hold the water behind Conner's highway near Canal Point to prevent the inundation of the Belle Glade-Pahokee section.

It was a grim job of trying to pile up dirt on the roadway faster than the water could pile up behind it. A two-foot head was reported behind the highway dike.

Newer and lesser problems exist at Fort Lauderdale, Hialeah and water. Turn beans into bean pot or 3-quart casserole. Scrape rind of pork until white, score top by cutting down about 1 inch, and bury in beans with rind exposed. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over. Cover; bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 3 1/2 hours or until tender, uncovering during last hour of baking. If necessary, add more water during baking.

Boston Brown Bread
One teaspoon salt, 1 cup bread flour, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 cup corn meal, 1 cup whole wheat flour, 1/2 cup molasses, 2 cups sour milk or buttermilk, 1 cup raisins or nuts (if desired).

Sift flour, soda and salt. Mix with corn meal and whole wheat flour. Mix molasses with sour milk; add dry ingredients. Beat well. If desired, add raisins or nuts. Steam 2 hours in greased molds filled two-thirds full and covered tightly.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes with orange juice, oatmeal, enriched toast, plum butter, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Lentil soup in large bowls, dark bread, fruit salad, oatmeal cookies, tea, milk.
DINNER: Tomato juice, baked beans with salt pork, nut and fruit Boston brown bread, butter or fortified margarine, cole slaw, apple pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

Miami Springs. Flood fighters there appeared to be holding their own but all hands agreed their tasks would be greater if the Conner's highway line fails to hold.

The sluggish flood, which turned the mucky Everglades into a shallow, slowly moving inland sea, already has done most of its damage. Millions of dollars worth of crops, cattle, roads and improved property have been lost or severely hurt.

The big problem now seems to be getting the water off the land before another heavy rain. Everglades farmers accustomed to catastrophic were beginning to plant their fall crops of beans on every dry acre that could be found.

Splitting a crow's tongue does not improve its ability to talk. A bird's tongue plays little part in its utterance of sounds.

When the Manchus conquered China in 1644, they compelled all male Chinese to wear "pig tails" as a sign of subjugation.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Oct. 15—Mrs. Ben Peterson of Delaware is visiting her mother, Mrs. Dennis T. Lynch of the Coons neighborhood. Mrs. Peterson is the former Denise Lynch.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sahbeck have returned from a motor trip to Columbia Center and other points.

Priscilla Tandy, a new resident, and Sonje Berg are students at the M.J.M. School and Kingston High School respectively.

Mrs. E. Hansen of Brooklyn is at her village center place for a few weeks. Mrs. Hansen has been at a hospital in the city following a stroke several weeks ago.

Miss Eva Thost, a nurse at Bellevue Hospital spent the holiday with her father, George Thost. Eva holds both city and state certificates and is preparing to study at Hunter College with a view to further advancement in her profession.

Thursday, October 12, 1813, the death took place of Phoebe Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd Davis of West Shokan. The young woman's funeral, conducted October 15 in the Shokan M. E. Church by the Rev. Harry Cornford, was said to have been the largest ever held in the old village with 100 carriages in the procession. Miss Davis took care of the post office during her father's term as postmaster. She was the sister of Ferris Davis, well known up-town Kingston building materials dealer.

Louis Thiel is reported to have sold his state road farmhouse, cottage, barn and large acreage on both sides of the highway to George Hauser, a member of the reservoir maintenance force for the past year. Mr. Thiel reserves one building on the south side of the road which he is remodeling into apartments, together with a small triangular piece of ground adjoining the west boundary line of Charles Greene. Mr. Hauser and some of his relatives are expected to occupy the purchased property as a year round home.

Mrs. Nelson Bell observed her 89th birthday at her Route 28 home last Sunday.

Reservoir sightseers out in force all day Sunday and local observers opined the number of cars passing through the village was comparable to that in any preceding holiday week-end this year. The autumn foliage of course was a major drawing card, but many of the motorists were making their first tour of the Ashokan as we attested by their inquiries in the village on how to "get to the dam." Our two great man-made "ponds" presumably will remain Ulster County's stellar attraction indefinitely.

Strange but True: Back in the good old days when we were still subjects of John Bull, the members of official boards of some towns in this county were called "trustees." Thus we learn that Sept. 6, 1709, a court of sessions in Kingston, approved an order of the trustees of Rochester, Olive's neighbor on the south, as follows: "After what summer grains that are sowed before 15 May, yearly, shall be got in, in harvest, that then Hogs have free range until people begin to sow again in the spring; and he that begins to sow is to acquaint his neighbors for to keep up their Hogs."

A pair of house mice can have 1000 descendants in one year.

Says Reds on Way Out

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Winding up their turbulent 23-day session, delegates to the National Maritime Union's sixth biennial convention heard their president,

Joseph Curran, declare yesterday that "the Communist party in this union is on its way out." After summarizing events of the extended meeting, longest in the union's history, Curran said that despite "obstructionists of an organized machine, the rank and file was able to win control of the convention." The pro-Curran right-wing group emerged victorious in a majority of the convention's issues which saw sharp cleavages between right and left factions.

City Halloween Party Scheduled For Children

Auditorium Will Be Scene of Event Sponsored by 40 & 8 and Local Play Office

Recreation Director Harry L. Edson today said he hoped children are giving some thought to costumes they'll wear to the big Halloween party, Friday evening, October 31, at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium.

The event is an annual affair sponsored through the cooperation of the city Recreation Department and the 40 & 8 of the American Legion.

Doors of the auditorium are scheduled to open at 7 o'clock and the grand march will begin at 8. "Some very fine costumes have been exhibited in past years," Mr. Edson remarked, "and we hope that the little folks will be out again on the 31st with another array of get-ups—cowboys, Indians, pirates, Colonial gentlemen and ladies, storybook characters, clowns, etc."

Prizes will be awarded for the following make-ups: Most horrible, most comical, witch, cowboy, boy dressed as girl, girl dressed as boy, patriotic boy, patriotic girl, pirate, novelty and grand prizes.

A panel of judges will select groups for prize competition, and as they stand on the stage final selections will be made by applause from the audience.

Every child in Kingston is invited to the party, and their parents too, for an evening of fun. Movies will conclude the program.

Two Are Sentenced

Jerusalem, Oct. 16 (AP)—A Jerusalem military court today sentenced two young Jewish workers to life imprisonment for the illegal carrying of arms. The sentence is subject to review by the Palestine high commissioner. The two defendants—Joseph Gavriel, 24, and Abraham Katalan, 22—were arrested near Herzliya along the coast plain of Palestine on June 10, in the vicinity of a house in which two kidnapped British policemen were held by members of Irgun Zvai Leumi—Jewish underground organization. The policemen later were released by their abductors. The defendants pleaded innocent to the charges.

U. S. Fire Losses Reach All-Time High, 641 Millions

Fire losses in the United States in 1947, according to the estimate of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, reached an all-time high. The total for the 12 months period ending in July was $641,816,000, the highest rate of burning in the entire history of the country.

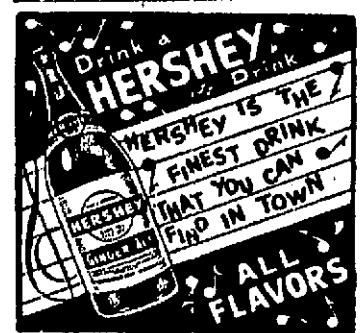

For every month for 1947 from January to July there was an increase over the previous year, the total average increase was 23.7 per cent.

The total loss since January 1 to August 1 was $418,633,000.

In January the loss was $37,130,000, an increase of 14.8 per cent. In February it was $64,247,000, a 24.1 per cent increase and in March the increase was 33 per cent and the loss $72,435,000. In April the loss dropped to $68,029,000, but still 30.4 per cent over the corresponding month in 1946. May the rate dropped to 22.6 per cent and in June 14.9 per cent but in July it went up to 23.7 per cent with a loss of $49,357,000.

Poor construction is the decisive factor in large-loss fires, says the association. Only six large-loss fires occurred in fire-resistant buildings. Unprotected vertical openings, stairways and elevators were important factors in the spread of 71 disastrous fires, the Underwriters report. Inflammability of contents, coupled with congested storage conditions, was a major factor in 102 of 166 structural fires classified as "large fires."

Fire Prevention Week was observed during the week of October 5 to 11 and during that week much was done to educate people and attempt to prevent serious fires. This program of education will be continued throughout the year.

Of Beltone's New Invisimold Single Unit HEARING AID

FRIDAY, OCT. 17th, 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, N. Y.

(Ask at Desk for Room Number)

Compare the pictures of the same persons with the button in the ear and with Beltone's Invisimold Hearing Aid. See how very inconspicuous the hearing aid is with the Invisimold. Remember that there is no weight in the ear when the Invisimold is worn. A deeply recessed crystal-clear lucite mold with a small, almost invisible plastic tube, channels the sound over the ear through the tubing where it fastens to the receiver (tucked in to woman's hair or under a man's collar). You can actually walk down the street without anyone being aware that you have a hearing aid on. A woman can fix her hair in any style she wants and still know that the hearing aid will not attract attention. Ever since I have been in the business, for 17 years, the whole hearing aid industry has dreamed of a way properly to conceal the hearing aid so that it would be unnoticed. Now, it not only can be but it is with Beltone's new Invisimold Hearing Aid. You will want to see it; you will want to try it; you will want to enjoy the realization that such an amazing advance has been made for the convenience and unobtrusiveness of wearing a hearing aid. Be sure to come to the hotel to see it.

MORE BELTONE SINGLE PACK HEARING AIDS HAVE BEEN SOLD THAN ANY OTHER MAKE

Busy Day at 103 Years

Seranton, Pa., Oct. 16 (AP)—Mrs. John Slazyk of nearby Avoca had a busy Wednesday for a spry little lady of 103. Mrs. Slazyk celebrated her birthday yesterday by walking four miles through the woods in search of mushrooms—one of her favorite dishes. On her return with a half basket of mushrooms to show for her trouble, Mrs. Slazyk gathered four buckets of coal from a nearby mining operation for winter use. And to complete her chores, she worked in her garden and fed the flock of 50 chickens. Mrs. Slazyk says she is "the best in the region."

New Car Has 3 Wheels

Van Nuys, Calif., Oct. 16 (AP)—The first Davis automobile, a three-wheeled car which the manufacturer says can attain a speed of 118 miles per hour, rolled off an assembly line at the Davis plant here yesterday. The Davis is a coupe with a removable hard top, has a wheel-base of 108 inches and is powered with a four cylinder 68-horse power engine. Gary Davis, head of the firm, said the three-wheeler will sell for $995 f.o.b. Los Angeles and "slightly higher east of the Rockies."

Canada is larger than the United States proper and Alaska combined.

Farm Income Estimated

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Agriculture Department today estimated gross farm income this year will be $34,300,000,000, the highest of record and 18 per cent above 1946. Net income, after paying production expenses, was figured at $18,000,000,000.

Americans are said to purchase $30,000,000 worth of fraudulent stocks each week.

resented as strongly opposed to the establishment of food price controls in New York. Since creating the State Food Commission October 3 he has emphasized that the commission should be on increased production and "wiser use of what we have" rather than reduced consumption.

Hilleboe defined the commission's objective as:

1.—"Modification of the diet of the people of the state so as to improve nutrition and maintain maximum health in spite of a reduced intake of grain and animal products."

2.—"The reduction in New York's share of the nation's grain consumption during the present emergency."

Hilleboe said that suggested alternate diets, designed to conserve grain, would be released to the public within a week and added:

"During the next two months informational materials of inclusive scope will be prepared and distributed to the people to enable them to participate in the program of food conservation and health."

He called again for full support on the community level and said all state departments and state colleges would participate fully.

Red Cross Will Handle Inquiries About Missing

The Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross now will accept inquiries concerning the whereabouts of friends and relatives last known to be in Germany, Mrs. Joseph Deegan, home service chairman, announced today.

Mrs. Deegan said that effective channels have been established to trace persons in all four occupied zones of Germany, but that the Red Cross will accept the inquiries only after normal communication channels, such as regular mail, have proved ineffectual.

The home service chairman explained that since resumption of the two-way inquiry service in April, affecting all parts of the world except Germany, the American Red Cross has been working to arrange a satisfactory channel for inquiries concerning persons last heard from in that country. Through contacts with the U.S. Military Government in Berlin, these arrangements were completed recently.

All inquiries, Mrs. Deegan said, must be directed through the Red Cross chapter where the inquirer resides and while most of them are expected to concern German nationals, many are expected to involve other nationalities.

Flames have whipped through acres of timber in the counties of Saratoga, Warren and Washington and on Higley mountain near Herkimer.

Forty-five men were flown into The Plains area of Higley mountain on the south branch of the Moose river. The fire was reported under control last night after burning over more than eight acres of small trees and brush.

Public Pool Discussed For Woodstock Village

Woodstock, Oct. 16—Plans for a public swimming pool are being discussed informally, with hopes that one will be built in the village for children who swim, those desiring to learn and for use by summer visitors.

One source had it that there was a suggestion to float a bond issue for a $25,000 pool, but this could not be verified.

The public pool as talked about would have all modern conveniences, with bath houses for dressing.

Although there are a number of private pools in the village and nearby vicinity, it was pointed out, there is great need for a public place to swim.

Fossil Dragonflies

Moscow (AP)—Dragonflies with wingspreads of over one meter once lived in the Ural mountain regions of the U.S.S.R. An announcement from the Moscow Geological Geographical Prospecting Institute said fossils of the giant insects have been brought back to the capital after a recent discovery. A statement said these fossils resemble dragonflies and were discovered in the Permian strata on the Vishera river. Fifth-century, it was stated, fossilized insects of this type—but with a wing span of only 80 centimeters—had been found only in the coal strata in Commeny, France, and it was believed they were extant only in the carboniferous period, i.e., 335 million years ago.

Longhorn cattle were introduced into the United States by Spanish settlers.

Choice Vacancies Await Recruits in 156th Battalion

Anxious to fill the ranks of his local unit in the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin today said that some choice vacancies await veterans qualified to fill them.

According to the commanding officer, vacancies exist for veterans who held ranks as first sergeants, unit supply sergeants, mess sergeants, motor mechanics, radio operators and airplane mechanics.

He specified that any qualification in other branches of service, infantry, tank destroyer, ordnance, engineers, etc., could find comparable positions in the 156th here.

The recruiting board meets at the armory on Manor avenue on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 p. m. to 9 o'clock for talks with men interested in National Guard service. Anyone desiring interviews at another time may make arrangements by phoning 156.

Col. Harkin said, "Men whose age is over 17 and who have never had any military service will find the National Guard a fine place to learn a trade and place to start a military career."

"If Congress approves universal military training, men called in who have had some National Guard training will have an advantage over those who have never worn the uniform."

Col. Harkin expressed appreciation for the interest shown in his recruiting drive by the American Legion, which gives him time to speak at meetings, and added that he is anxious to reach the authorized strength of the local unit with the activation date only a short time away.

Compensation for a night's drill runs the same as a day's pay in the army, ranging from $2.50 for privates to $5.50 for first sergeants.

terization, political, economic and psychological.

He said, "We are faced with the danger of the actual disappearance of the characteristics of western civilization on which our government and our manner of living depend."

Marshall said twice—for emphasis—that the basic issue today "is never smoother—all their hidden savagery."

He said, "We are faced with the danger of the actual disappearance of the characteristics of western civilization on which our government and our manner of living depend."

At the end of the day, the convention adopted a C.I.O. resolution on foreign policy, supporting all "sound programs" of economic aid to other countries and generally calling for peace, unity, understanding, and an end to war talk.

Murray told the convention that specific reference to the so-called "Marshall Plan"—to help European countries to aid themselves and each other—was purposely omitted. He said the C.I.O. might want to advance something that goes even further than the Marshall idea, which he said he personally favors.

FARLEY SAYS WOMAN WON'T BE U.S. PRESIDENT

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Former Postmaster General James Farley, speaking at a Wellesley College fund-raising campaign dinner, predicted last night that the present generation would not live to see a woman president of the United States, "the most terrific man-killing job in the world."

Asserting that women are the mental equals of men and "spiritually they are superior," Farley said, however, that he did not believe "any woman is physically and emotionally strong enough to serve out a full presidential term."

The dinner opened the school's 75th anniversary campaign to raise $7,500,000 by 1950.

The funds will be used for faculty salaries and research, scholarships, a dormitory and a library.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people live about 30 years. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, get-up-and-go, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Thursday morning, investigation revealed.

A watch found on Bonnette's body had stopped at 1:35.

At dawn Thursday morning, men on the other barges noticed the rowboat floating upside down, and thinking both Bonnette and Parker might have been drowned, notified shipyard officials who called Sheriff George C. Smith.

Searching for the two men, the sheriff and his aides dragged the river for four hours without result. Later, Parker was found safe ashore and was questioned and held on the public intoxication charge.

When the body was washed near shore yesterday, state police were notified at 11:30 p. m. and troops from Lake Katrine and Highland investigated. Papers found on the body indicated that Bonnette had a residence at 133 22nd street, Brooklyn. Coroner Jesse McHugh of Walkill said death was caused by drowning.

Mr. Truman noted that his food committee plans conferences with poultrymen.

For the moment, the committee was concentrating on the brewers and the bakers.

Britain Will Put Added Emphasis On Palestine Stand

Eight Nations Announce They Will Support Marshall Plan; Reds Ready

Lake Success, Oct. 16 (AP)—Britain prepared today to re-emphasize her determination to withdraw from Palestine at any early date and leave its solution to the Holy Land problem solely to the United Nations.

Arthur Creech-Jones, British colonial secretary, was selected by the London Government to make the 57-member Palestine Committee scheduled meeting for 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. in a speech-up drive aimed at concluding the opening round of debate by Saturday.

Meanwhile, the U. S. called substantial support for Secretary of State Marshall's year-around Assembly plan as the first test vote approached.

Joseph Bech of Luxembourg, chairman of the Assembly's Political Committee, announced he would call for a vote this afternoon or tomorrow on an Australian resolution to send the American proposal into subcommittee for re-drafting.

Thus far eight nations have announced support of the Marshall plan while the Russian-led Slavic bloc has denounced it as a means to destroy cooperation between the Soviet Union and the western powers.

As the U. S. proposal now stands, Russian is apparently prepared to boycott the "Little Assembly" if it is established. Some quarters said the Australian resolution may be aimed at watering down the plan in an effort to make it acceptable to the Soviet Union.

As the Assembly's Palestine Committee moved further into debate, interest centered on the British attitude toward a solution, which thus far has been non-committal and apparently will remain so.

A British informant said that

Creech-Jones' speech would be primarily a reply to any who believed Britain was bluffing when she announced her plan for early withdrawal from Palestine.

Although Britain is not ready to announce a withdrawal date, he said, such a date might be set before the end of the present Assembly session. He said a target date for withdrawal is now being discussed.

Creech-Jones was expected to make no definite commitment either now or later on the plan to partition Palestine into separate Arab and Jewish countries.

Informed British sources said, however, that it could be assumed that Britain would not vote against partition, which is supported by both the U. S. and Russia in a rare instance of agreement.

French sources said, meanwhile, that France also would decline to commit herself in advance of the partition plan.

Instead of making a policy speech, one French source said, France will merely explain her vote when the question reaches the balloting stage.

Flatbush Has Its Troubles, All Due To 'Crazy Calendar'

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Ah, Brooklyn, where the calendar is crazy and soft zephyrs blow year round.

Eighty-six persons crowded into Flatbush Court yesterday to answer summonses charging them with feeding animals in the zoo at Prospect Park, galloping horses along bridge paths and other violations that usually occur during the hot days of July and August.

After disposing of the cases, Magistrate James M. Fawcett jokingly said:

"Perhaps in Coney Island Court today they have a lot of people answering summonses for parading along the boardwalk in bathing suits or changing from street clothes to bathing attire on the beach or in their cars."

A quick check showed that while there were no beach violations, 50 persons took dips in the ocean.

Yesterday's high temperature was 73 degrees.

Fair Policy in Hiring Antidote to Communism

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—State Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck says that the best "antidote to Communism" appears to be such laws as New York's anti-discrimination law.

Hailing the legislation as "one of the most progressive statutes ever placed on the books of the state of New York," Heck also told a meeting of the Men's Club of Temple Beth Emeth, Brooklyn, last night.

"A fair policy of employment for everyone is the best security against the intrigues and undercover movements which would seek to undermine the democratic bases of our nation."

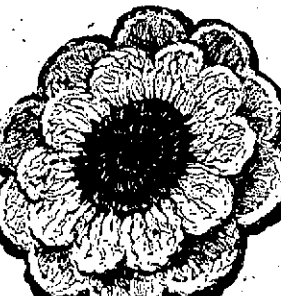

Characterizing the anti-discrimination law as "a phenomenal success," Heck said the commission administering the act never has been forced to resort to its legal sanctions, and has succeeded by employing "education, persuasion, negotiation and tact."

He said that as of Oct. 7 this year, 1,026 complaints of alleged bias had been received and investigated, including 749 regarding color, 244 creed, 116 national origin and 30 for other causes.

Of the total complaints, 876 were in New York city and 145 upstate. Among the upstate complaints, Heck said, 53 were filed with the commission in Albany, 75 in Buffalo and 20 in Syracuse.

Discriminatory practices were charged to employers in 838 cases, to employment agencies in 67 cases, to unions in 64, and the remainder were listed as miscellaneous. Heck said only 185 cases now are in the active file.

Says, 2,700 Chilean Miners Return to Coalfields

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 16 (AP)—Gen. Guillermo Barros Tirado, Chile's defense minister, reported from the coal fields today that 2,700 of 16,000 striking miners had returned to work up to last night under a government back-to-work order.

He was quoted as saying the situation would be normal "within three or four days." The strike, which the government contends resulted from "Communist agitation," is in its 13th day.

Numerous strike leaders were reported arrested on charges of attempting to prevent the miners from returning to work and dispatches said the families of those who refused to work would be dispossessed to make room for miners coming in from outside.

Miss Borwell Gives Folk Song Program

Interpretation of folk songs endeared Eileen Borwell to her audience numbering about 200 people at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday night as she sang for the Y.W.C.A.'s Business and Professional Girls' Club's annual concert. A native of South Africa, she brought nine of the best loved songs from that country as her contribution toward a better understanding of her people.

Miss Borwell explained that South Africa was modern in its living standards with skyscrapers, up-to-date hospitals, and cosmopolitan ideas. The songs recalled tunes taken from folk songs of other lands such as Holland, Scotland, Germany and Portugal, she pointed out.

Several of the songs were sung in both English and Afrikaans which is of Dutch extraction. Most of the songs were humorous jests sets to gay tunes. For encores she chose "Polly Come with Me to Fanny's" and "Tante Koba."

Miss Borwell's voice of clear sweet tones is particularly suited to the folk song music and with her pleasant manner, her songs were thoroughly enjoyed. She sang songs of many lands such as the Russian "Dearest Little Maiden," by Bargominsky; "Song of the Palanquin Bearers," from India by Martin Shaw; the typical Irish "My Aunt She Died," and "Half a Bap"; and Scotch, "Charlie Is My Darling," arranged by Dunhill. For the American contribution she chose the sweet Appalachian Christmas Carol, "I Wonder as I Wander," arranged by John Jacob Niles. She sang Schubert's "Hark, Hark the Lark!" and two French songs as well as Rachmaninoff's "Floods of Spring," with its forceful background accompaniment. Her operatic arias were "Non so piu" from "Marriage of Figaro," Mozart; and "Vissi d'arte" from "La Tosca" by Puccini.

Kenneth McGuire, pianist, provided the musical background with a keen sense of accompanying the singer.

On Old Time Herbs for Club
Mrs. O. D. B. Ingalls of Hurley who was hostess to the Lowell Literary Club Tuesday gave a paper on "Old Time Herbs" for the meeting. She also exhibited some of the herbs.

Mrs. Ingalls traced the history of some of the herbs from the ancient Greeks about four centuries before Christ, and said that some were mentioned in the Bible at the time of the Exodus from Egypt. Garlic was used to feed the slaves in Egypt when they built the pyramids she reported and most of the herbs originated in Asia, Greece and Egypt.

Passengers on the Mayflower brought parsley to America and balm is mentioned in Shakespeare's plays while Rudyard Kipling wrote of thyme. She also spoke of the lavender in Queen Victoria's garden and rue in Governor Winthrop's Boston Commons.

Eating Prunes

An oft-repeated question is the following: "When eating prunes, should one cut the fruit from the pit with one's spoon or may the whole prune be taken into the mouth and then the pit removed to the saucer with the spoon?"

If the prune is enormous, then cut it in half and at the same time take the pit out. If the prune is small, you might put it in your mouth and afterwards drop the pit into the spoon with which you are eating, held close to your lips and then conveyed to one side of your plate. But the proper removal always depends upon their being made as dry and as clean as possible with your tongue. It is horrid to see anyone spit skins or pits into a spoon unless they are really bare and the lips compressed. In fact, many polite people remove thoroughly dried pits between the thumb and two fingers.

Girl Stops By for Boy

Dear Mrs. Post: Would you call it improper behavior on the part of a "well brought-up girl" to stop for a boy when his house is half way to the party they are going to together and she has the car? Mother and I disagree in our belief about your point of view. I feel sure you will agree with me as to the unnecessary effort of his having to go a long distance to the girl's house, when she has to go past his house on her way. The other night, for example, it was raining hard and he would have arrived at the party soaking wet. However, my mother feels that by doing this kind of thing, a girl will be talked about by the people who like to gossip.

Answer: As a practice I agree with your mother. But I find no impropriety in her doing as you suggest on an especial occasion of bad weather, such as the one you speak of, provided he is someone who goes to her house at other times. And, of course, provided he drives to her house after the party.

Out of My Province

Dear Mrs. Post: Should a gentleman remove his hat when sitting with a lady at a bar in a cocktail lounge? There has been quite a bit of discussion about this and we would like your opinion.

Answer: Not being an expert on "Bar Etiquette," I can answer only that indoors anywhere a gentleman takes off his hat. Table Rules of Importance, a leaflet by Mrs. Post explains questions frequently asked about eating hard-to-manage foods. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York, 19; N. Y. # Six Canadian Ring Stars Are Signed for Next Boxing Show

'Babyface' Decker, Dungy Also Listed for October 23

Six Canadian boxers, two of whom can boast that they boxed for championships of the Dominion, are scheduled to appear on Ben M. Becker's card at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, Thursday night, October 23.

Ben M. Becker, of Albany, director of bouts for the local club, made this announcement today, remarking that he is leaving no stone unturned to stack up an exceptionally attractive bill of scraps to overcome disappointments of the last fistic program.

Clayton Kenny and Ronnie Lacelle are the two stars from the Beaver Boxing Club of Ottawa slated to campaign in the local ring next week. Kenny, who has been boxing three years, won the Quebec Golden Gloves championship in 1946 and this year was a finalist in the Dominion Championships at Port Arthur, Ontario. Lacelle won a Dominion championship last year and came close to repeating this year.

Referring to the last Kingston show, Becker remarked, "I was very much disappointed at the poor showing of Paul Simpson's opponent, but things like that happen in the boxing game. None of the amateurs want to fight the Cleveland power-puncher, so I guess he's through until he tries his luck in the Olympics or makes some other arrangements to keep busy."

Becker has attempted to round up the best available boxers around the Adirondack district of the A.A.U. to compete against the highly touted Canadian group, and is of the opinion that the card next Thursday will be one of the best ever presented at the municipal auditorium.

Russ Dungy, Gary, Ind., boy now living at Utica will be on the bill, also George "Babyface" Decker, Schenectady, Ind. who boxed that series of bouts with Carmine Virgilio before joining the army to do his bit for Uncle Sam; Harold Morton and Eddie Cheeks, both of whom were impressive on the last card.

The card as announced by Becker:

Russ Dungy, Utica, former Chicago Golden Gloves champion vs. Clayton Kenny, Ottawa, winner of a championship in the Quebec Golden Gloves and finalist in the Dominion Championships at Port Arthur, Ontario.

George "Babyface" Decker, Schenectady vs. Ronnie Lacelle, 129, Dominion champion last year.

Harold Morton, Albany lightweight vs. Lloyd Kenny, rated as one of Canada's best action fighters.

Eddie Cheeks, Schenectady, vs. Johnny Page, Ottawa welterweight who won the novice Golden Gloves championship in Montreal last April.

George Jackson, Schenectady, who has two knockouts to his credit in Kingston vs. Joe Sandilo, another Quebec Golden Gloves champion this year.

Sam Galbo, Utica vs. Bobby St. Jacques, Ottawa welterweight.

Jackie Harris, Schenectady middleweight vs. Dave Brandon of Kingston.

Diamond Fans Hope for Good Weather Sunday

These Boys Carry the Mail for the Maroon

It will be four against one in the crucial DUSO League contest between the undefeated Kingston and Port Jervis grid machines Friday night at municipal stadium. This superb Maroon quartet includes: Dee Titus, forward passing whiz and signal caller, who played a sensational game against Middletown; Bill Kitsos, strong defensive back and tackler de luxe; Buddy Jones, a slick handler of punts; and Mike Rienzo, the power runner. These four match their combined skills against Ray Nicolette, Port Jervis backfield wizard, who some experts rate as one of the greatest ball carriers in DUSO history. Port Jervis downed Newburgh 18-0 in the DUSO opener, while Kingston ground out a 6-0 win over Middletown. Kingston is rated a touchdown favorite over the Red and Black, while the Middies are conceded two touchdowns over Newburgh in the other DUSO game Friday. Game time is 8 o'clock. (Freeman Photo)

Strike at Jamaica Track Does Not Stop Opening Card

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Jamaica Race meeting was scheduled to offer its second day's program today despite a strike of grooms and exercise boys and an accompanying sympathy walkout of van drivers that resulted in greatly reduced fields.

The strike, which began at noon yesterday, was staged by several hundred of the backstretch help, who are seeking union recognition, $50 a month more pay and better dormitory and eating conditions.

The union, A.F.L.-Teamsters Local 814, claims membership among about 700 of the nearly 1,200 employees of the various stables at the three New York tracks.

Out of a field of 70 horses on yesterday's opening card of seven races, there were about 20 late scratches. An indication of what was in store for today was seen in the fact that only two of the featured Glade Valley Purse are quartered in Jamaica.

Meanwhile, a special mediation committee appointed by Mayor William O'Dwyer reported that "definite progress" has been made toward ending the dispute. The conciliation panel includes sports writers Dan Parker and Arthur Daley and John Sloan, former chairman of the New York State Racing Commission.

After a three hour and 45 minute conference with representatives of the employees and the horsemen at City Hall last night, the committee announced that proposals it had made would be considered by both sides during the day. The representatives promised to report back to city hall tonight.

Feller's Win 2-1

Los Angeles, Oct. 16 (AP)—Bob Feller's All-Stars, with the Cleveland fireballer in the box for four innings, defeated the Kansas City Royals, 2-1, last night in an exhibition game. Satchel Paige, pitching for the Royals when Dave Bankhead failed to arrive for the game, fanned seven in the four innings he worked, against Feller's two.

Operations on Top Salary Stars Key to '48 Pennants

New York, Oct. 16 (AP)—Major repairs on many of baseball's highest-priced players, recently completed or scheduled for the near future, probably will have more influence on the 1948 pennant races than any trades that will be made all winter.

Stan Musial, bothered by an inflamed appendix, was below par during the early months of the 1947 season, seriously hampering the St. Louis Cardinals' chances of repeating.

Although Musial resumed playing after a brief layoff following his attack in New York, it was recognized that he would not be right until he underwent an appendectomy at the end of the season.

George (Red) Mauer, strong-armed right-hander, was handicapped by the same trouble although he was a key winner for the cards in their September drive.

Undergo Operations

Both Musial and Mauer underwent appendectomies yesterday and were reported "doing fine" by Robert F. Hyland, club surgeon, in St. Louis.

Spud Chandler of the New York Yankees, who was lost to the club since mid season with a sore arm, was operated on Monday for removal of cartilage and bone chips from his right elbow.

Even without Chandler the Yankees were able to walk away with the American League pennant this year but Manager Bucky Harris knows his return to pre-July form is a must if the Yankees are to repeat. Despite his age, Chandler at 35 is a most important member of the Yankees staff, even if it's only for spot duty.

Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox reportedly underwent an operation on his ailing right arm September 8. The ace Boston Red Sox pitcher's aches severely handicapped the club in the long pennant race. A sound Hughson, to act as a "stopper" for his staff, could make all the difference to

WILLIAMSON'S PREDICTIONS

By PAUL B. WILLIAMSON

No championship will be decided outright this week, but several of the week's top offerings will have a bearing on the title in their respective circuits.

The score of Texas University's expected win over Arkansas, when compared to Michigan's margin over Northwestern, will determine whether the Steers are to remain the nation's No. 1 team or bow to the terrific Wolverines, this week's No. 2 squad.

The Williamson System is taking Oklahoma over Kansas in a game that will bear directly on Big Six title affairs. Utah will take Denver and Utah State will top Wyoming in contests important to the Big Seven championship drives.

Pieds Gophers Over Illinois

The Minnesota-Illinois clash with Minnesota favored, promises to reflect new light on the Big Nine race. In addition, North Carolina will beat William and Mary to wreck the latter's Southern Conference title hopes, perhaps, and Oregon State's Beavers may get the lead on Southern California's Trojans in the Coast Conference race.

World Series Stars to Play Here Against Valley Club

Kingston and area baseball fans who just about packed up baseball in the mothballs for another season after the hectic Yankee-Dodger series ended, were reported to be looking up all weather almanacs today in hopes of finding clear and warm weather predicted for the coming week-end when some of those same series stars will be right here in Kingston's backyard.

The determined search for weather reports today is a result of Fred Davi's booking of the Frank "Spec" Shea's All Stars against a picked team of Hudson Valley Stars at the municipal stadium for Sunday afternoon starting at 2 o'clock.

Rabid diamond fans who are planning to attend the game at the stadium en masse are keeping their fingers crossed for the continued Indian summer days which have held forth during the past week. Last year when Davi brought up the major leaguers for a special exhibition here the weather was ideal and that's the dire hope of the fans for Sunday's tilt.

Two of the World Series stars already selected to perform here against the Hudson Valley nine include Shea, ace pitcher of the New York Yankees, and Carl Furillo, brilliant outfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The third series player is expected to be named momentarily. It is believed that the third man will be either Buddy Kerr of the Giants or Phil Rizzuto of the Yanks.

Although the Hudson Valley lineup is still indefinite, Davi has indicated that he is dicker for the services of Billy "The Kid" Ostrom and West Westrum as the opening battery. Ostrom, who was a member of the Poughkeepsie Giants of the Class B Colonial League this season, has sent word that he'll play here. Meanwhile, Davi is buzzing all wires in hopes of landing Westrum, the former Recreation hurler who wound up the 1947 season at the Polo Grounds as a member of the New York Giants.

For Furillo, his appearance in Kingston will be anything but new. The Dodger fly-chaser appeared here last fall with Joe Di-Maggio and George Stinewiss and caught the fancy of the stadium customers with his fine fielding. Now a year later the youthful Reading, Pa., player has blossomed into a full-fledged major leaguer who possesses a tremendous throwing arm and batting eye.

Davi, who planned to announce the Hudson Valley roster today, told The Freeman that the lineup would be available Friday. He has several important meetings to-night and after that would have players ready for a public announcement.

Parker to Defend Laurels
In Pan-American Tourney

Mexico City, Oct. 16 (AP)—Defending Champion Frank Parker of Los Angeles faces Brazil's Armando Vieira in the men's singles quarter-finals of the sixth Pan-American Tennis Tournament today and is also teamed with Ecuador's Francisco Segura in second-round doubles.

Parker and Segura, seeded number one in the doubles, drew a bye to the second round, where they are paired against the Mexican team of Alfonso Belmar and Jorge Lara.

Parker advanced to the singles round of eight with a squeaking victory over Earl Cochell of San Francisco on Tuesday. At the same time, Segura defeated Canada's Brendan Macken. The Ecuadorian ace meets Francisco Guerrero of Mexico in the quarter-final singles.

In The Pocket

CHARLIE TIANO

(Editor's Note): As soon as our sports editor and bowling "expert" is able to achieve his first 500 triple of the season, this column will revert to its usual format. In the light of complications being encountered by the sports ed., the columnist has at the present time, however, the column will cover a variety of sports subjects.

The Furillo Legend:

Take a good look at Carl Furillo, the Brooklyn Dodger outfielder who will be in Kingston along with Frank "Spec" Shea, possibly Phil Rizzuto and a host of minor league stars Sunday at municipal stadium. You will be watching a future National League star, a young man who is murder against southpaw pitching and a solidly-built performer who has the greatest throwing arm in baseball today. Only yesterday, Jimmy Powers rated three best throwing arms in baseball, viz: 1. Furillo. 2. Slaughter. 3. Sid Gordon. What do American Leaguers???

Furillo's arrival with the Dodgers is a tribute to the Brooklyn farm system set up by the impeccable David Harum of baseball, Jimmy Power's old pal, Branch Rickey, who is supposed to know a few items about Kingston baseball.

An Ace on a Rock Pile:

Legend has it that a Brooklyn scout found Furillo on a rock pile near Reading, Pa. He could run, he could hit, and best of all he could throw.

The rest of the story is now baseball history. Furillo came to Ebbets Field, astounded press box cynics with his tremendous throwing arm and defensive skill. He showed a weakness against right hand curves, but against southpaws, he was murder. Ask Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals.

During the season he batted .298 in 124 games, drove in 86 runs and made innumerable miracle catches and throws. Consigned to the bench in the World Series because of the preponderance of right hand Yankee pitching strength. The wild and woolly format of the Series completely upset pre-series strategy and Furillo suddenly found himself thrown into the breach against righties and lefties. He emerged with a .358 batting average, robbed Joe Muggio of a homer with a circus catch and established himself a real star.

We hope Fred Davi gets a real break in weather and a large crowd attends Sunday's game, despite the lateness of the season. It's a nice break for our City League heroes to be playing against "Spec" Shea and Carl Furillo. Fred deserves a break, too.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

A recent visitor to Kingston, Mike Shirglio, silver-thatched Mount Vernon bowling ace, who has rolled several 700s in Kingston. . . Mike was a member of the famous Fisher Body squad of Tarrytown, frequent visitors to the city before the war. . . Tony Mack is at it again in Newburgh with a 685 blast. . . George Palmer is giving Poughkeepsie leggers the best press they have enjoyed in years. . . If anybody sees Paul, a Free City League statistician and court jester, kindly inform him it would be nice to have the final batting averages. . . Lou Netter, the managing editor, waited until Mulligan Mike retired before he disclosed his golf scores. . . The big match never came off and now we know why. . . We understand members of the Glasco Rod and Gun Club are likely to back one of their stars against John Van Gonsle in an individual trap-shooting test. . . Is that right, boys??? . . . Van Gonsle, who has held the county individual title since before Henry Ford converted the T model, relinquished his bauble this season. . . But just to show the field he still knew the score, John broke 100 straight targets at the recent county meet. . . Norman Baker, the new individual champion, turned in a neat bit of marksmanship. . . Having dropped two targets on the first trap, he had to shoot without a miss in the second trap to save off a tie and subsequent shootout. . . He did.

That Swimming Pool Again:

The idea of a combination swimming pool-civic center and park as a suitable way memorial for Kingston is still tops in our book. The small town of Olean, N. Y., which supported a minor league franchise, has a swimming pool-park setup that is a thing of beauty. . . The public could use a municipal swimming pool. . . The Delano-Hitch municipal pool in Newburgh was used by 35,007 persons during the summer months. . . Of this total, 29,422 were youngsters 16 and under.

The Class B Colonial League is preparing to add two more teams for the 1948 season. Poughkeepsie is a member of that circuit. . . Kingston and the Bridge City could be natural rivals in that league. . . Did you know that Vannie Albanese, Syracuse fullback, carried the pigskin 19 consecutive times in the 1935 Orange-Penn State game, going over on his last attempt for a 7-3 victory? . . . Mrs. Rudolph Geiselman, the Rosendale woman's bicycle champion, weighed 108 pounds when she copped the U. S. title in 1939. . . Today she weighs 130, a tribute no doubt to the chicken dinner she cooks every Sunday for her husband.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: This Ray Nicolette of Port Jervis High must be some shucks of a ball carrier. We'll know better by 10 p. m. Friday.

Zaharias, Berg Lead
Field in Golf Tourney

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 16 (AP)—Mildred Zaharias of Denver, Patty Berg of Minneapolis and Betty Jameson of San Antonio led in that order as nine entrants started today on the second 36 holes of medal play in the Hardscrabble Country Club Women's Open golf tournament.

Mrs. Zaharias' total after 18-hole rounds Tuesday and yesterday was 150. The other two followed with 151 and 152, respectively. Miss Jameson yesterday established a new women's record for the course of 73, thereby lifting herself from sixth to third place. Women's par is 79.

Elizabeth, N. J.—Buster Tyler, 1413, Newark, T.K.O. Buddy Holderfield, 1424, Little Rock, 4. New York (Jamaica Arena)—Sid Haber, 148, Brooklyn, outpointed Pat Scanlon, 145 1/2, New York, 8.

Mrs. Zaharias, W. Va.—Charlie Banks, 178, Cincinnati, outpointed Georgia Clark, 176, Pittsburgh, 8.

Former Bike Champion Now County Resident

Mrs. Rudolph Geiselman, of the Mountain Road, Rosendale, the former Miss Gladys Ruth Owen, 1939 national women's bicycle champion, still loves biking and is pointing for the 1949 New York state and national title events. She was caught by the Freeman photographer during a workout recently with her two youngsters in the specially built bicycle-trailer. Seated, left, in the "trailer" is Margaret Jean, 2 1/2-years-old and at the right is Kathleen Ann, 4-year-old. Mrs. Geiselman who trained in Rosendale for her 1939 championship race, moved to Ulster county from New York city in 1942. Her husband, a former amateur bike rider, served as her manager and trainer prior to their marriage. The weight of the children which Mrs. Geiselman tows around in their trailer is 65 pounds and she hopes this extra weight will strengthen her legs for the championship grind. (Freeman Photo)

U. S. Army Horses
Will Compete in National Nov. 4-11

Col. Franklin F. Wing, Jr., will lead the U. S. Army team which will compete in the international military jumping contests of the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, November 4-11, Whitney Stone, president, announced today (Oct. 16).

Mr. Stone said that he had received word from Ft. Riley, Kan., where the team is training, that Col. Wing, a veteran of many years' competition at the National Horse Show, would be accompanied by Lt. Col. Frank S. Henry, who was at the Garden in 1941; Lt. Col. Charles A. Symroski, on last year's team with Col. Wing, and Capt. Jonathan R. Burton, who competed in the open jumping contests in the 1946 National.

The U. S. team last year divided honors with the Mexican team winning four of the eight events. The Riley riders were first in the three-event international military

War Bride Is Held In Death of Man, Father of Three

Redwood City, Calif., Oct. 16 (AP)—A 20-year-old Polish war bride who had left her husband in Montana was held for investigation today in the shooting of a Palo Alto man in whose car she was riding early Wednesday.

The slain man was an ex-army sergeant, George W. Conner, 25, father of three small children. District Attorney's Investigator Frank Marlowe quoted Mrs. Jadwiga Czacki Curtin.

"We met in a bar. He forced me into his car. He drove like a Nazi. He grabbed the gun I had. I got it back from him. He grabbed it again. It must have gone off."

Said Conner's widow: "I've been expecting it. I filed suit for divorce last week; he was to have been served today. Maybe it's just as well."

The two women met, for a moment, in the sheriff's office here—sisterly. Then Mrs. Conner turned away. "After seeing her, I don't feel sorry for her," she said.

Mrs. Curtin shrugged, and told a deputy sheriff: "His wife not mad."

Special Officer H. F. Elbard of Woodside had just passed the Conner car about 2:40 a. m., Wednesday, when, in his rear-view mirror, he saw it careen off the road.

He found Conner dead from a bullet that had passed through lungs and heart, and Mrs. Curtin, hysterical, bleeding from a cut on her forehead, presumably suffered when the car struck a roadside embankment.

Mrs. Conner told officers her husband, collection manager for a loan company in San Francisco, had been drinking heavily for several months.

San Mateo county officers said Mrs. Curtin told them she had visited an East Palo Alto bar Tuesday night with Howard Durham, former soldier with whom she had been associating; that Durham and a stranger quarreled, and that she had taken from Durham—as a precaution—the pistol she knew he carried.

She said she had married Curtin—whose first name she would not tell—in Germany after the war and had lived with him for a time in Havre, Mont., leaving him last spring to go to Safford, Arizona. Later she came to the west coast.

Senate Committee Holds Door Open For Further Probe

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Senate Expenditures Committee held the door open today for further investigation of the bookkeeping practices of the Federal Public Housing Authority.

Senator O'Connor (D-Md.) told reporters there will be "no clean bill of health" for the agency pending the outcome of an inquiry into what the lawmakers called "specific irregularities."

This study, O'Connor said, will be made by the U. S. General Accounting Office and by Price, Waterhouse & Co., a public accounting firm which surveyed F.P.H.A.'s 1945-46 books.

The Maryland senator said that when the new study is completed the committee will decide whether to hold hearings. O'Connor presided at sessions which wound up yesterday.

Dillon S. Myer, commissioner of the Public Housing Administration, F.P.H.A.'s predecessor agency testified yesterday there was no basis for a contention by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) that there was a case of "fraud" in F.P.H.A.'s bookkeeping.

Ferguson had said F.P.H.A.'s Atlanta regional office handled a $26,250 item in a manner that amounted to "fraud," Myer said the handling was "technically incorrect" but did not represent an attempt to make a fictitious or fraudulent bookkeeping entry.
